Hillrock Estate Distillery

Our flagship spirit, Hillrock Estate Distillery is located in the Hudson Valley highlands overlooking the Berkshire Mountains and their whiskey blows us away.

Master Distiller Dave Pickerell (14 years as the Master Distiller at Maker's Mark) creates artisan whiskey on Hillrock's own farmland, using their own grain and their own well water in a "field-to-glass" production that includes the first floor malting in the U.S. since Prohibition.

Their Solera bourbon is the only whiskey in the world that uses the cask aging process used by sherry, providing an unmatched flavor. Their rye is a bold and flavorful American interpretation. The single malt whiskey is peat smoked for fourteen hours for a rich, smoky flavor that's unmatched.

Gin

Brooklyn Gin

This American-style gin is a craft spirit made in Redhook, Brooklyn, from hand-cut citrus peels and hand-cracked juniper berries. (Yes, really by hand.) The fruit is locally purchased and the corn is grown in upstate New York.

Brooklyn Gin is complex and flavorful—more than good enough to drink on its own—and its perfect in cocktails. Their entire team is comprised of "three guys with one copper pot still" and they only produce 300 bottles of gin at a time. This gin has been written up in GQ, the New York Times and has been on CBS News and Jimmy Fallon.

Vodka

Prohibition Distillery Bootlegger 21 Vodka

Roscoe New York is home to Prohibition Distillery, which takes its name from the underground network of distillers and suppliers (the "bootleggers") that kept spirits flowing even after the 18th Amendment outlawed the sale of liquor in America. The number in the name of this vodka comes from the 21st Amendment, which repealed prohibition and marked a new era in American spirits.

Beverage Testing Institute gave Bootlegger 21 an "Exceptional 90-95" rating and we agree—this is by far one of the best vodkas we've ever tasted.

Rum

Owney's Rum

Owen "Owney" Madden grew up in the rough Hell's Kitchen neighborhood in New York City in the 1900's. In his twenties he ran a local gang, and by the time prohibition was enacted he was already part of the City's underground economy.

Owney was most famous for smuggling Caribbean-made rum to the U.S. via Rockaway Beach during Prohibition. Rum had been famously popular with the colonists but demand slowly faded until Owney started rum running and serving the contraband in his Harlem speakeasies.

This rum, named after Owney Madden, is produced in East Williamsburg, Brooklyn and is made from only molasses, yeast and NYC tap water (the finest in the world!). The molasses is mashed, fermented, distilled and then blended to produce a rich, flavorful, spectacular rum.

Owney's Rum $8

All shots are 2.4 oz. 1 oz. shots are also available.

Defiant Brewing Company

The Defiant Brewing Company creates micro-brewed craft beers from their home in Pearl River, and they are head-and-shoulders above mass-produced beer.

Great beer from great folks that are dedicated to quality.

Defiant Abominable Snow Beer $6.00

Brewed for the winter season this ale is a snowy golden color and is lighter than most winter beers, but also more refreshing. We could drink this beer all day. Look for a massive spicy nose, a honey malt middle and a lasting spiced dry finish. 6% ABV.

Defiant Medusa India Pale Ale $6.00

Defiant's take on the IPA, Medusa has an aroma of oranges, honey wheat bread, lemons, caramel malts and sugar. A must-try for the IPA lover. 6.5% ABV

Bottles & Cans

St. Bernadus Abt ~ $12

Abbey ale brewed in the classic 'Quadrupel' style of Belgium's best Abbey Ales. This beer consistently wins awards and ranks at the top of the "must try" list for beer lovers.

Dark with a full, ivory-colored head. It has a fruity aroma, full of complex flavors and a long bittersweet finish with a hop-filled bite. A very balanced beer, with the perfect combination of malty, bitter, and sweet. 10% ABV

Kentucky Bourbon Barrel Ale $6.50

Award winning Kentucky Bourbon Barrel Ale is a unique "sipping beer" with the distinctive nose of a well-crafted bourbon. This beer is aged for at least six weeks in freshly decanted bourbon barrels where it picks up a smoky, oak flavor. 8.19% ABV

Ballentine IPA $6.50

The awaited return of America's first IPA. Pabst, who makes Ballentine, decided to honor this historic beer by recreating it from the original recipes, but they couldn't find any in their archives. That sparked a multi-year project to recreate this legendary beer from historical records, memory, tasting notes and experimentation. The result is a small-batch IPA that uses classic ingredients like hop oil and oak, but with a body and taste for the 21st century. 7/2% ABV

Ninkasi Venn Dortmund Style Lager $5.00

Hailing from Dortmund, Germany, the eponymous Dortmund lager has been around since the 19th century. Using "noble hops" (a European hop that's lower in acid than its American counterparts) this beer has just a note of bitterness and has a well-rounded, sweet and malty flavor, followed by a clean finish. 5.10% ABV

Newburgh Cream Ale $5.00

Cream ales were developed to compete with the popularity of the pale lager and it features a light body and smooth taste without aggressive flavors or bitter hops. Local Newburgh Brewing Company produces this excellent cream ale, eschewing the corn and rice that's often in this variety of beer. The result is especially malty and incredibly refreshing. 4.2% ABV
